

September, 2012

Recently, I had one of the most enjoyable, impressive and musically rewarding mornings. I was in Eric Henderson's living room listening to him play just for me!

Can you imagine? Right in front of me, sitting where I could reach over and touch him, was a man, a musician, a musical spirit whose exquisite playing touched me so deeply.

His music was something uniquely wonderful. Performing on a guitar personally given to him by Andrés Segovia, Eric was creating virtuosic soundscapes - all with ease, excitement, total command and complete bliss. I was in the presence of a great musician, Eric Henderson.
